THE WEST COAST.

The President of Chile, in his message to Congress, points to the probabilities of a peace settlement with the republic of Peru. The news will be welcomed on this continent and in Europe, as it embodies the close of a disastrous war and the stability of political affairs on this continent. Commercial relations between this continent and Europe have grown to such proportions in the last decade that foreign nations can no longer look on with indifference, when vital interests and important trade relations are at stake in war or revolution.

The West Coast war has drawn the attention of the world, and its many fitful contests have been witnessed and chronicled with interest. Wars in South America are always protracted, owing to the immense distances that always separate belligerents, and the scanty population that is scattered over the large states of the continent. Four years have been wasted in a hand to hand fight on Peruvian territory: Peru has been ruined and Chile can no longer stand the strain on its resources. Exhaustion on both sides is hastening the peace settlement, which will be a boon not only to the belligerents, but also to the adjoining sister-states.

Strange to say, Chile has been enjoying an artificial prosperity during the contest; the occupation of several provinces of Peru and of its Custom Houses has swelled the revenue of the Chilian treasury and hidden the wounds occasioned by the struggle. The revenue of the Chilian Government is larger than that of this country; a fact most extraordinary, if we consider that the Plate is far ahead of Chile in trade, population, extent of territory and wealth; the guano and saltpetre of Peru and Bolivia have occasioned this expansion of revenue in the Chilian treasury, an expansion out of proportion with the material advance of Chile itself. If the war does not interfere with the financial condition of the Government, it, nevertheless, works a baneful effect on industries in Chile. Thousands of men have been withdrawn from their daily occupations in a country whose capital represents the labor of the inhabitants. In the Argentine Republic wars and revolutions leave no lasting impression, and produce no very depressing effect, owing to the fact that the great capital of the country is animal stock, which accumulates independently of the labor of man, to a great extent. The withdrawal of so many men from labor and the taxation on the country are beginning to be felt in the neighboring republic, and glory is no compensation for the direful effects of the war, if carried on indefinitely. The difficulty in the way of peace was the anarchy that prevailed in Peru, but General Iglesias has at last succeeded in defeating and seizing Caceres; this last phase in the Peruvian civil war guarantees the signing of peace between the belligerents. General Iglesias is in favor of the speedy termination of a war which, if continued, will end in the total dissolution of Peru. The conditions of the peace settlement are not known, but they can be more or less gauged by former proposals of the Chilian Government. The most important condition is the cession of the Peruvian province of Tarapaca for ten years; at the expiration of this term a plebiscite will be summoned in the province, and the inhabitants will have the option of becoming Chilian or Peruvian. The aim of the Chilian Government is to overrun the province with Chilians; the upshot may be already anticipated.

Meantime it is most amusing to note how Bolivia is left out of the account. Bolivia has played a melancholy role throughout the war. It appears to matter little whether she agrees with the policy of the Chilian and Peruvian cabinets or not. Bolivia will probably lose all her coast-board, and will thus be reduced like Paraguay to a mediterranean republic, with this difference that the latter has the immense advantage of a splendid water route, which the former has not. Bolivia must henceforward lean on the Argentine Republic; her future depends on the construction of railroads, linking her to the Plate. As the close of the war is imminent, the epilogue contains a healthy moral, which will prove a melancholy experience to the vanquished and a warning to other states. Chile, Peru and Bolivia will emerge from the war in a deplorable condition, and it is be hoped that twenty years' peace will heal all the wounds inflicted by four years' of brotherly strife and jealousy. Argentines have happily kept their place, thanks to the ability of the Avellaneda and Roca cabinets; they may at leisure calculate the immense benefits and advantages reaped from a policy of peace and of non-intervention.

LONDON LETTER.

(From our own Correspondent.)

BUSINESS AND FINANCE.

May 4.

The Times, on May 1st, had a severe article against Chile for her needless prolongation of the war and consequent interruption to trade. The article was founded on the report of Mr. Markham, and on a letter from a Sr. Garcia, of Peru, who is now in London. In yesterday's Times there appears a letter from Mr. Stephen Williamson, M.P., and member of the well-known firm of Balfour, Williamson and Co. Mr. Williamson takes the part of Chile, with all the ardour of a child of the West-Coast Republic by adoption. He says it is well known that it was the nefarious conduct of Bolivia, and the perfidy of Peru, who, for their own purposes, formed a secret treaty which led to the declaration of war by Chile. The verdict of the civilized world in 1879-80, was in favour of Chile, and not all the Markhams and Garcias in the world will alter that verdict. The Peruvians, says Mr. Williamson, refuse reasonable offers of peace—they refuse to surrender the province of Trapaca, the coast town of Arica, for which Chili offers to pay ten millions of dollars.

People interested in the Uuruguay Bonds are watching the movements of the two separate syndicates who are now striving against each other in London to negotiate the unification of the Uruguay debts. As you know, the two ostensible and separate movers of the scheme are Mr. Cerruti and Mr. Varragaud. I cannot find out what English firms respectively represent the two rival syndicates, but I have a notion that the motive power in both cases is in Paris. No doubt, as soon as the negotiations ripen and the time arrives for a division of commissions, well-known English names will appear as taking shares in the syndicates. It is not yet evident that negotiations will mature sufficiently to bear fruit. It is difficult to see how the various holders, whose interests are concerned, can so combine as to unanimously approve any scheme of unification. Besides, if it were feasible, it could be matured in Montevideo and negotiated through a London bank without a useless loss to the Government and people of Uruguay by the payment of syndicates and concessionists. The question of the National Bank and of Mortgage Banks are also mixed up in conversation on the subject of unification. But, as I have said, nothing is yet clear on the point, not even the true names upon whose credit the public have to rely. The state of Uruguay contains a population of less than half-a-million, and is less than half as wealthy as the single province of Buenos Aires. This little fact is forgotten when the Orientales talk of "national banks, national armies and the paraphernalia of national legislation, all of which ought to be adapted to the modest conditions of the State, as a Municipality with adjoining territory. Mortgage banks and country branch banks are, no doubt, a great want in the Republic, but surely the banks already in operation could, by an increase of capital, easily obtainable in London, attend to present requirements without the manœuvres of syndicates and the ultimate infliction of "cedulas," for the benefit of Montevidean brokers.

The English schemes, rapidly coming to the front, are a new Suez Canal, the Channel Tunnel and the Manchester Ship Canal. The first naturally excites much opposition in France, where they still seem to imagine that M. de Lesseps has some exclusive right to construct intermarine canals in Egypt. That is not so. The real question is, if one canal has given so much trouble, with so little relative profit to English trade, what is the use of making another? the neutrality of both requiring a European guarantee. It would be cheaper to buy up the old one and widen it.

The other subject, the Channel Tunnel, is approaching a phase of extreme interest. The Parliamentary Committee are busy examining all the traffic and business authorities, and, so far, the balance of evidence is greatly in favour of the utility of the Tunnel. But a most amusing question has arisen. Whatever may be the fears of Lord Wolseley, and various old women in plumed hats, as to the military dangers of the scheme, it seems that the French promoters intend to go on, aad if the English will not meet them half-way, they will be in their rights to carry their tunnel to low-water mark on the English coast. Such are the sinuosities of the Rouen chalk, which, it appears, forms the strata necessary to success and to avoid flooding, there is no knowing on what part of our shores the Frenchmen's heads may first appear, when we can whistle "Rule Britannia!"

They talk of abolishing the Marines. Perhaps the "Dook" thinks it time to form a new corps of Submarines to protect bathers in case of war. The end of it will be that the Tunnel will be made, and Lord Wolseley can go to Kassassin.

The Manchester Ship Canal Bill came before a Select Committee of the House of Commons, presided over by Sir Joseph Bailey. The Bill, as originally deposited, incorporated a company, with a total capital of £7,500,000; and, in order to enable ocean steamers and other large vessels to get to Manchester, powers were taken to deepen and improve the River Mersey, from between Garston and Runcorn, by the creation of a low water channel. From Runcorn a ship canal is to be constructed, passing via Warrington to Manchester, docks being proposed at both these places. The estimated cost of the works sanctioned by the Bill is £5,633,000. When the petition came before the examiner he found that the Standing Orders had not been complied with, inasmuch as plans and sections, together with estimates of cost and Parliamentary deposit had not been prepared. The case went before the Standing Orders Committee of the House of Commons, who decided to dispense with the Standing Orders in respect of which non-compliance had been reported, conditionally on the clause containing the powers to construct the low-water channel being struck out of the Bill. This decision was subsequently endorsed by the Standing Orders Committee of the House of Lords.

The opposition to the Bill is of a very determined character, there being fourteen petitioners represented by counsel before the Committee, among whom are the London and North-Western Railway Company, the Great Western Railway Company, the Midland Railway Company, the Mersey Docks and Harbour Board, the Cheshire Lines Committee and the Corporation of Liverpool and Birkenhead.

At the close of Mr. Pember's speech for the promoters, which lasted from twelve to half past three, the chairman ordered the committee-room to be cleared, and on the readmission of the public announced that the Committe considered that the engineering difficulties with regard to the Mersey channel were a crucial point of the case, and that they wanted the evidence on that point produced as early as possible.

Some stir has been made in the City by a new regulation of the Bank of England, by which it refuses to make advances to brokers except during the time technically known as the "shutting." By charging a prohibitive rate for loans to brokers, the Bank reduces the competition amongst bill-brokers, and produces the same effect as it would do by lowering the rate of discount. At all events, since the regulation was made the competition for loans has been checked, and the Thursday has passed without any reduction in the rate, although it was expected to be raised to 3½ per cent. The question has given rise to some correspondence, the result of which seems to be that, as far as the new regulation is concerned, only weak brokers and badly-managed banks, which lend without sufficient margin to cover renewals, will suffice; and that as a grand centre of the money market, regulating the price of money either by refusing loans or altering the official rate of discount, the Bank of England has lost its old preponderance, since by telegram wants can be supplied from all the principal markets of the world. This latter opinion is however denied by many capable people who trust to the Bank of England and to London as the only certain "gold paying" centre; and the practicability of foreign markets being able to meet any sudden strain or special demands in time to be of service to individual borrowers is not believed in by old stagers.

"A long period of depression in the cotton trade, lasting with little intermission for the last six years, has resulted in losses and failures far more serious than can be judged from the insolvencies disclosed. The great trouble has been, and still is, the excessive production of yarns and goods. Joint stock companies have perhaps been in the main answerable for the dogged persistence in production when the margin of profit beyond the cost of labour and materials has remained small. The home demand is good; the Eastern demand has derived all possible stimulus from free trade in India; but the supply still exceeds the consuming power of the world. What is most hoped for is that the trade may be saved from the additional pinch of a speculative run in the market for the raw material, the prospects of compensation in enhanced selling prices of goods being poor. May often marks the time of a turn, when the bulk of the last American cotton crop is measurable and the market rises according to speculative views of the next season's supply. It is greatly to be hoped that the next rise will begin at the right end—namely in the prices of goods rather than in the cost of cotton."

PARIS LETTER.

(From our own Correspondent.)

The consummate diplomacy of Bismarck in effecting the triple alliance, to which Spain, Turkey and Sweden are more or less adherents, not only puts an end to the Latin race fantasy but separates Russia from France. The latter is thus completely isolated, diplomatically and militarily. She has only to cross her arms and wait to see what may turn up. There are regrets that France bungled in not going hand in hand with England and Italy in Egypt and Tripoli, and with Spain at Morocco; then a good commercial treaty could have cemented this Zollverein of the West. Some propose that France should knock at the door of the triple-allies, and demand, "Mirth admit me of thy crew." For Germany the visit would be strange, but why not anticipate the day when the lion is to lie down with the lamb—without eating it? Mrs Malaprop held, for a lasting liking, it is best to commence with a little aversion. Nor is the idea so very wild. Emile de Girardin, whose pen inflicted immense misery on his country by hounding on his fellow countrymen to invade Germany with his theatrical cry of à Berlin! advocated up to his death, two years ago, the union of France with all the European powers to extinguish England.

The French continue to feel very sore at the English occupation of Egypt, which is not chivalrous after being solicited to join in the danger and to share in the glory. Nothing will cure that want of magnanimity save the making of a second canal to Suez. May it have precedence of the channel tunnel. The Lebanon question is a heartache; Bismarck is now considered to be here at work also, to oppose a governor who might favour French schemes. As for the Tonkin expedition, the Radicals oppose that tooth and nail, assert it is another Tunisian speculation, less even than a Kroumir lever de rideau.

The Salon, or annual Exhibition of Paintings and Sculpture, ever 'tickles the town' as Tony Lumpkin says. It opened with May day, and affords the occasion for noting the prospects of Fine Art in the country. The general impression is, that the Exhibition is a good mean; no marked progress is to be noted; none of the hopes expected have been realized. The contests of other days have vanished; they are now but competitions, not for glory, but for the market. Painting is becoming a commercial art; when the artist has secured a certain number of medals and prizes, and made a clientele, like a manufacturer, he produces. But it is living Greece no more; soul is wanting. Inspiration becomes drowned in ability, and talent degenerates into a marketable commodity. The Salon is thus dull; lassitude, the prelude of decadence, is visible; the artist is the victim of the money-fever; he is in a hurry to get rich; his trade mark sells well. While painting is something between backward and on the decline, Sculpture on the contrary advances. This is due to the fact that the sculptor's range of work is limited, he being, in a sense, forced to live in himself. The composition of the Juries of the Ecole des Arts has much to answer for in the stationary character of French art; its council of administration wants new blood, original-idea men; one half of its members are physically too old, and the other moiety, young in years, is behind the present wants of art. One fact is gratifying, the Exhibition draws crowds, and such a power is not to be despised.

We are now in the height of the Paris season; fiddles keep feet going, and cooks are working over time. It would be a national calamity were they now to execute their threatened strike—strikes will soon be among the permanent institutions of the land, for there are not many hosts who could cook a dinner for their guests like Dumas pére or Rossini. M Grevy is a noted hand at roasting a partridge. The Russians have observed their Easter with all honours; the gentlemen attended church in evening costume, and the ladies were also in full dress; open corsages á la de Médicis, arms as bare as at a ball, profusion of diamonds, &c. After the ceremony the deacon gave a grand supper—the expenses of which the Russian embassy pays.

It is feared that France will not be the observed of all the observers at the approaching coronation of the Czar. There will be no pecuniary extravagance. When Charles X was crowned at Rheims, the Marquess of Londonderry represented England. In posting from Paris to Rheims, he settled on each new postillion, as a tip, an annuity of 100 fr for life. That's how to do it.

Every Paris cemetery will henceforth have its "dead house," where wakes can be held as long as desired. Glass coffins are coming into fashion for the poor; they can serve indefinitely for others.

ROSARIO.

1st June.

The Governor's Message on the opening of the Provincial Chambers is a very lengthy and diffuse document. What he says could have been, with great advantage to perspicuity, condensed into a quarter of the space. To give an idea of Dr. Pujato's notions of what a Message—which should be simply a summary of the political and financial and social state of the Province—should be, he lugs into this official report a long paragraph from a Buenos Ayres paper of a laudatory character for Santa Fé.

In the paragraphs dedicated to the loan lately effected, Mr. Pujato gives us to understand that the whole of the proceeds will go into the vaults of the Bank, with the exception of a tiny amount of half a million that the Government may make use of; and won't they make use of it without delay! The Message also gives us to understand that the Murrieta loan is paid off, so that really the proceeds of the loan (₱4,150,000), minus the payment to Murrieta and the half-million to the Government, will assume very small proportions, and after replacing the Bank's original capital, substracted almost in its totality by preceding administrations, the actual augmentation to the capital of the bank will be little over a million of dollars, possibly a million and a half. This, however, is always something.

The revenue of the Province in 1882 amounted to ₱1,388,969; but the sale of land to Murrieta is put down at ₱672,688, leaving the net revenue of ₱716,281, for the lands were made over in payment of the outstanding interest due on the loan. By this we find out that the lands were disposed of at about a thousand dollars a league. Though Mr. Pujato speaks enthusiastically of the Provincial Bank, he has not a word to say about the Government debt to that institution. He has a whack at those people who wilfully and maliciously have maligned the credit of that establishment, and complacently says the notes are at par. He is correct in one sense, but it was not because the notes rose in value, but because the Bolivian silver on which they were based fell to the value of the note. Relative to gold they are at a much greater discount to-day than two years ago, notwithstanding the loan.

The Government, according to the Message, has balanced revenue with expenditure to a cent—a wonderful arithmetical triumph; not a farthing of difference on either side. I suppose the 20,000 dollars, more or less, stolen from the Rosario Treasury does not appear on either side of the ledger, or it would have upset the balance.

What the new valuation for "Contribucion Directa" will be when it is finished, we can glean from what the Message says of one Department, where the valuation has been concluded. In Coronda the tax has been collected on a basis of three millions of dollars. This has been augmented to eight millions.

The part referring to education is almost entirely taken up with a lengthy eulogy on the Jesuits' College in Santa Fé, that occupies half a column, and reads exactly like an advertisement; and if the reverend fathers do not educate the children of the Governor gratis, they will be very ungrateful. The whole lengthy document, apart from the elaborate effort at gilding and glorifying, appears to be the work of a man completely ignorant of even the form and language of a Message to be presented to a Legislative Assembly. Happily there will not be a soul in the Chambers who is capable of criticizing it.

If we may believe the "on dits" of the papers, there is something serious in the scheme of the railway to the Murrieta concession in the North-West of Santa Fé. Colonization of those distant regions would be for the present an impossibility without a railway; but it seems a waste of money starting an expensive railway from the town of Santa Fé, which can never be made a port for sea-going vessels. In fact, to all intents and purposes, Rosario is the head of navigation for the class of ocean steamers and sailing vessels that the exigencies of trade now require. The greater bulk of the products of Northern Santa Fé, where the greater part of the colonists are situated, has to be brought to Rosario in small vessels to be shipped here. Captains of sea-going vessels do not care to go above this port. When loaded in Santa Fé they very frequently come to grief. I know a firm who chartered a good-sized vessel (500 tons) to load at the Boca of the Riachuelo, in the Parana, the Captain refusing to go to either the port of Santa Fé or Santo Tomé. On getting 200 tons in he refused to take in any more where the ship was lying, and proceeded to Diamante, on the other side of the river, and the cargo has to be sent in lighters a distance of 30 miles or more. As I have not seen the charter party, I cannot say who is to bear the extra expense, the shippers or the vessel. The expenses incurred by the farmers to get this grain into Santa Fé are enormous.

I have more than once said it is wasting money to think of building lines of railway in this province perpendicular to the river, particularly when they start from bad ports; and I do not know of one good one on the right bank of the river above Rosario, unless it be in front of "The Rey," where the Jesuits had their mission of San Geromino. I have repeatedly said that what the colonists of the North require to become rich and prosperous is a longitudinal line through the centre of the Province and intersecting the Central Argentine, so as to bring their produce directly to the grand port of Rosario. Such a line has been actually sanctioned by a former Congress, and Mr Murrieta ought to join with the promoters of this scheme and give his future colonists the benefit of the Rosario market, instead of bringing them to that unhappy little hole, "Sleepy Hollow." We want for Santa Fé a railway, starting from Cañada de Gomez and running along the line of longitude 61, or thereabouts, almost straight north up to the confines of the Province, taking in the greater part of the principal colonies, and opening up a grand region for more.

We believe that the reason Congress is raising up difficulties in connection with the enterprise I have mentioned is that the law sanctioned a guarantee of 7 per cent. But a guarantee now is a widely different thing from a guarantee in the time of the building of the Central Argentine. A longitudinal railway through the centre of this Province would earn 7 per cent. from the first year. Formerly traffic had to be made for the railways; now railways must be made for the traffic.

All is not couleur de rose in the Gran Chaco. Commander Ferreira, who was sent to explore the territory lying to the East of the Province of Santiago, nearly perished from thirst with all his party. They dug wells 25 feet deep without finding water, and had to return, saving their lives by killing the mules to drink the blood.

For the second time the Central Argentine has been obliged to suspend receiving through cargo. The manager explains that on account of short supplies of waggons on the Andine line, there are always forty to fifty of the Central Argentine waggons employed on that line to the prejudice of its own traffic. He also says that the incapacity of the Northern, or Tucuman line to carry forward the cargo causes a greater agglomeration of cargo in the Cordoba Station than the buildings will hold.

W. P.

THE SOUTHERN RAILWAY.

MR. JOHN FAIR'S REPORT.

From Bahia Blanca we returned by the way of Pihuinco. From what I saw of the progress of the works I do not think it would have been possible to have proceeded quicker than they have done. They have had to contend with great difficulties, inasmuch as there are two other English Companies bidding for railway men, and the Government of Buenos Aires is also engaged on very large extensions on their Western Railway, and at the same time sheep-shearing was going on. Then the harvest came on, and what with the different bidders for labour, the number of men on our line was not so great as Mr Ware could have wished. However, when I left he had over 2000 men at work, and I think would extract as much work from 2000 men as most people would do from 3000. Mr Ware is seconded by a staff of young engineers who do credit to their country, and I may say that I never saw a finer or more energetic set of young men in my life. Accompanied by Mr Cooper, Mr Coghlan, and Mr Moores, we examined the different lots of land which, in accordance with the instructions of Board and the wish of several influential proprietors, it was decided we should acquire with a part of our reserve fund. We paid very careful attention to the subject and examined the land very carefully. We had several interviews with our agent, and they resulted in our acquiring about 3000 acres of land, which in the course of a few years we hope will make our reserve fund look a good deal more than the quarter of a million which it now represents. We tried to engage the assistance of a Justice of the Peace upon our side, and we had several interviews with him. I told him that the railway had brought a flood of gold into Bahia Blanca, and that I thought the least he could do for us was to assist us in acquiring all the land he could. He spoke very fairly and promised that he would do what he could, and he said that I might assure my brother Directors that he was most devoted to our service, and would assist us in every way in his power. Bahia Blanca is not a promising looking place for agriculture, as the land is very flat and sandy, but one of the oldest settlers in the place, the Italian Consul, told me that it was an extraordinary place for growing vines, and that a Frenchman who arrived there a few years ago planted some 6000 vine canes, most of which had taken, and he thought that in the course of time, though there was not much hope for agricultural produce, it might be a wine-producing district. As to the progress of the works, it will give you some idea of what the people of that country think of the pace at which this railway is carrying on its extensions if I mention to you an advertisement for the sale of some national lands near Bahia Blanca, wherein the auctioneer referred to the works of the Great Southern Railway as being carried on with 'rapidez vertiginosa' (rapidity which makes one giddy to look at). As far as I remember I think I have now said all I have to say with regard to the extension works. These have been carried on with the greatest energy. A man better adapted for the work than Mr Ware I do not think you could find; his energy, his industry, his zeal, and cheerfulness, are qualities which secure the hearty co-operation of his men. He assured me that the work of the extension would be finished very much within the time given us by the Government. The next visit I paid was to the Azul line. On the previous occasion we had only passed by Olavarria and the stone quarries, and we now determined to make a careful inspection of the place, which has within the last year grown into a very nice town. Although only three or four years old, it can now boast of a very fine hotel and a public square, full of trees. Altogether it is a very thriving looking place. We visited the Russian colony, and one of the most pleasing indications of what is going on there is the hundreds of stacks of corn which were to be noticed in every direction, and to see the acres of land which had been brought under cultivation. The Russian village consists of one long street; and they are very exclusive, not mixing with the people of the country. They have been extremely successful. I remember five years ago when these people landed in Buenos Aires, and upon their disembarking they did not know where to go, and the Government determined to let them have this piece of land. To judge by the number of houses and cattle which are now to be seen there, one would say that they are all very well off. After visiting Olavarria we proceeded to some valuable stone and marble quarries, where we were surprised to find a number of men engaged in quarrying. The most interesting sight I ever saw in my life was in connection with that trip. The party went down to the very end of the line of rails, and we there witnessed what I dare say very few people have an opportunity of seeing, viz., the actual laying down of the line. There were several hundreds of men there and when a train of materials arrived each man had been so schooled that he knew exactly what he had to carry away. We saw the Livesey sleepers carried and dropped within about an inch of where they ought to be; then the tie bars were laid in their places, and then the cottars for fastening them, and next the actual rail. We actually saw 50 or 60 yards of line laid down in the few minutes that we were there. The precision, exactness and intelligence of the men, consisting principally of Italians and Basques, was something remarkable. The result of laying down that line will in the space of five years produce a wonderful effect upon developing agricultural enterprise. Having completed our visits to our line of the country about twenty-five years ago, when it was the abomination of desolation, there was nothing to be seen then. I had ridden over it on horseback, and was astonished with what I had witnessed. The stations along the line were crowded with country carts, and piles of wheat were there ready to be transported to Rosario. At Rosario there were immense quantities of railway material which were being carried off for the extensions that were being made by the Government, and there were heaps of machinery for the sugar plantations in the provinces, and of iron wire, to be seen all round the stations. Of course, anything connected with the development of the wealth of the country is interesting to us, because we participate in it as well in the south as they do in the north. As deputy chairman of this company, I take this opportunity of acknowledging, not being a shareholder in the Central Argentine Company, the only one I can avail of, the extreme courtesy with which I was treated by the gentlemen who manage that line. Mr. Graham, the locum tenens for the time being, gave me a special train to Cordoba. He accompanied us on the journey, and pointed out every matter of interest connected with the line. I may say that I believe the Central Argentine possesses a property which is nearly equal to ours. Mr. Graham every now and then pointed out some great improvement of work which he told me in a melancholy way had been charged to revenue. I feel conscious that I have given a very imperfect and bald account of my visit to the River Plate. I do not know that I have overlooked anything, but if I have I shall be happy to answer any question that may be put to me with reference to the line or the extensions. With regard to the line, I may say that the permanent way is perfect; the line is beautifully laid, and the rolling stock is in first-rate order, and that the administration there is very good. Without good administration we might have the finest rolling stock and the finest line in the world, and should not succeed; but I think I may say we do possess out there a first-rate administration.

COMPENSATION FOR OUTRAGES.

The Dublin Gazette contains a large number of awards under the Crimes Act to relatives of persons murdered and to persons injured during the agrarian disturbances. Harriette Blake, of Rathville, County Galway, is awarded £3,000 compensation for the murder of her husband on the 29th June, 1882, while proceeding to Loughrea; Peter Doherty, Carrigheens East, County Galway, £600 for the murder of his son, Peter Doherty, near Carrigheens East, on November 2, 1881; Bridget Ruane, of Rathville, County Galway, £400 for the murder of her husband, Thady Ruane, who was shot along with his master, Mr. Blake, while proceeding to Loughrea on June 29, 1882; Michael Feerick, of Brownston, County Mayo, £450 for the murder of his son, David Feerick, on or about 29th June, 1880, at Carrigownalecka, Ballinrobe, County Mayo; Bridget Connell, of Coolagh, County Mayo, £130 for personal injuries inflicted on her son on the night of 13th July, 1882, at her residence; Mrs. Fanny Wallace of Chalo farm, Isle of Wight, £300 for the murder of her son, Corporal Robert Wallace, near Castle Taylor, County Galway, on 8th June, 1882 while acting as escort to Mr. Bourke; Mary Dempsey of Riverville, County Galway, £800 for the murder of her husband, Peter Dempsey, on May 29, 1881, near Hollypark, County Galway; David Freehilley of Blacklowbog, County Mayo, £200 for murder of his son Patrick Freehilley, near his house on the 24th February, 1882; John Dillon, of Culleracarca, County Mnyo, £500 for the murder of his father, Luke Dillon, at Culleracarta on November 18, 1881; Harriette Viscountess Mountmorres, late of Ebor Hall, County Galway, £3,000 for the murder of her husband, Viscount Mountmorres, near Clonbar on 25th September, 1880; Robert Wheeler of Pallasbeg, Pallasgreen, County Limerick, £1,000 for the murder of his son, Henry Wheeler, at Garryhekin, County Limerick, on 12th November, 1880; Harriette Blake, of Rathville, County Galway, widow, £1,000 for injuries inflicted on her on the occasion on which her husband and his servant were shot near Loughrea on 29th June, 1882.

EDITOR'S TABLE

The mails by the Royal Mail steamer Derwent were delivered yesterday morning, but there is no fresh news. We send Captain Hanslip a thousand thanks for remembering us in the latest paper line.

Our Packet Edition for the next homeward mail (French) will appear on Thursday morning.

The Anglican Chapel at Flores was crowded on Sunday, when the Revd. Mr. Royce, of United States navy, conducted morning and evening prayer. The Revd. gentleman left here yesterday evening to rejoin the flag-ship at Montevideo.

We have most wretched news for ostrich farmers. Here it is, from the British Trade Journal, an immaculate authority:—"In South Africa the value of ostrich feathers has decreased considerably, and those who bought birds at high prices are regretting their stupidity. Birds in full plumage only command from £4 to £7 each, and even at these figures a purchaser cannot always be obtained. Young men who come out from England do not, as a rule, succeed as ostrich-farmers. Nor is this to be wondered at. They rush into the business without the slighest experience of the industry, and the natural result is that, after sinking their capital, they abandon the occupation and return home with a heavy heart. A couple of years' apprenticeship is not a whit too long a training for an intending ostrich-farmer."

The Colon Theatre was crowded on Sunday night. Aida was fairly rendered, but the audience shewed much indifference throughout the entire opera. The tenor did his best, and Mme. Gabbi sang splendidly; she was the only artist applauded. The basso went through his part well, and Amoncaso, the baritone, sang with excellent effect in the great duo of the third act. The contralto, with all her faults and charms, has admirers and was recalled after the first scene of the last act. Although the company does not come up to the expectation of a public spoiled by Schalchi, Borghi-Mamo and other celebrities, there is a feeling gaining ground that it is not quite so bad as depicted in the press. The orchestra is perfect, and the talented leader is the only perfect artist of the company this year. We make no reference to the ballet, as it is simply disgraceful: Buenos Aires never before saw such a miserable apology for a "corps de ballet."

Our colleague, El Mundo Artistico, which is so ably directed by our talented friend, Mr. Hartmann, makes a capital suggestion which we fully endorse. It is this: That Signor Ferrari should give three Symphonic Concerts at the Colon Theatre, Maestro Bassi's grand orchestra, the Quartette Society, and all the other crack instrumentalists in town to take part in it. We feel sure it will pay, and we hope to see our musical colleague's proposal take shape.

The Centro Industrial Argentino is going ahead. It scored six new members last week, and there are seven more candidates on the board.

The Irish residents are requested not to forget the meeting at the Convent to-day. The business on hand is of great importance to the Irish community.

The Almanza robbery has been completely cleared up. The female 'concierge' on the premises saw Mr. A's clerk and his accomplices at their bad work.

The Italians had a grand day on Sunday at the Politeama in honour of Garibaldi. The theatre was so crammed that there were over 20 people squeezed into every 'palco'

The Boca was crowded on Sunday, H.M.S. Sylvia was the admired of all admirers, and had several visitors, although she lay at the opposite side of the stream. She is a very nice-looking craft.

There were two alarms of fire in town on Sunday—one in Calle Maipu, and the other in Paseo Julio, but neither amounted to anything beyond fright and smoke.

The neatest swindle of the day is that which the 'individuo' called Octaviano Menchaca y Zeballos. (We object to a man with two names being styled an 'individuo') played off lately on a lot of people, a Mr. Facio being the chief victim. The rogue went round with a paper, stamped with a big V (for Victorica) as if emanating from the Land Office, and offered half the Republic for sale to Tom, Ricardo and Enrique. The total profits on the transactions amount to over 70,000 paper dollars. The bird has flown out of reach. The names of some of those "stuck" rather astonish us.

We publish at foot some interesting particulars about "Springwater Whiskey," with which the White House at Washington is supplied, and which is believed to be the identical tipple which the gods used to drink under the polite name of nectar.

Parties in search of a nice furnished house for the winter will find 'the very thing' to suit them in our advertizement column to-day. The house is a gem, and as dry as a bone, or a Scotch joke.

Bahia Blanca is going ahead faster than any other place in the country. There is a positively grand chance to-day, at Bullrich's for small capitalists to get hold of 20 square squares in the best part of the town. There is no basis of sale.

We hear with intense delight that there is every probability of the incomparable Nettleship wood pavement being laid down in Calle Piedad, the most editorial and the bankingest street in town. This will be a great relief to the ears of all living in the street. The Lord Mayor would greatly add to his fame by ridding Buenos Aires of another outrageous noise, viz the tramway horns, which are utterly useless, and a disgrace to any civilized city. All that is required to prevent accidents is to make the drivers walk their horses at the corners. The odious horn-blowing that now goes on from morn till night is worthy of a black settlement on the Coast of Africa. It is not tolerated in Rio, why should the "culta Buenos Aires" endure it?

The ocean-racer, the Stirling Castle, will begin her runs from Genoa to the Plate on September 3rd, and make the passage in fifteen days. This will be a revolution in earnest; and if the other companies do not brighten up, all passengers to and from Europe will soon patronize this swift Italian line, by which London can be reached in 17 or 18 days from here, or half the time too many steamers now take on the run to Europe. Hurrah! for the Italian Navigation Company and the Stirling Castle!

The Polyorama, at 185 Calle Cuyo, is the great rendezvous for children now. The views are innumerable, and beautifully executed. A new and wonderful spectacle, the Ciclorama, is now running. Every part of the world is included. The fire at the Ring Theatre in Vienna; Arabi at the head of his troops; the Battle of Trafalgar and innumerable other views are each well worth the 'entrada'—ten paper dollars for adults and five for children. Go by all means.

The extension of the Southern Railway to Bahia Blanca has now reached Kil. 458, to which the rails are laid; the telegraph wires have reached Curumalan. The weather is fearfully cold, three-eighths of an inch of ice every morning. The Gama station is at Kil. 455 from Buenos Aires. It will be the principal changing station, and all the necessary buildings, turn-tables, etc., are being put up.

The train in which Governor Roach went to La Plata on Saturday went off the rails near Pereyra, but fortunately, nobody was even scratched.

The latest letters from Milan say that the La Scala Opera House there is about to be closed for want of a decent tenor. Yet our superfine critics and rowdies here are not content with the three very fair tenors that Mr Ferrari has been able to engage this year. We do remember that when Gayarre was here he was not thought much of, and the Standard was almost the only paper that discerned the qualities of a great singer in him, and said so. Look athim now.

Our colleague La Prensa has always occupied a deservedly prominent place in the Editorial 'Bus, but it is now "facile princeps" in the telegram line. Saturday it had several most interesting "wires." In Berlin several trials are going on, the charge being the same as at the Dublin trials—conspiracy to murder public officials. Great interest in these trials is taken in Germany. A very stiff debate is going on in the House of Commons about the Navy. The first-class ironclads are not considered up to the proper mark for the Mistress of the Seas, and the Government promised that the Navy would be increased. The new Municipal Law for London has caused a row amongst the Radicals. Just as the Czar's coronation ceremonies were over the Nihilists let fly a proclamation swearing they would kill him. Several of the foreign visitors at once left Moscow. The police at once went to work, and made an unprecedented number of arrests. The newly elected Prefet de la Seine, M. Mathe, is a red-hot Radical, a regular out-and-outer, and his election is considered rather significant.

El Martes 5 de Junio 1883
A la 2 en punto de la tarde

Remataremos a la mas alta postura y dinero de contado, sin limitacion alguna, por lo que den, y sin retirar lote, el terreno arriba designado, situado en el ejido del pueblo de Bahia Blanca, sobre las Barrancas denominado Loma Paraguaya con vista al majestuoso Oceano Atlantico inmediato al nuevo puerto proyectado, donde fondearan los grandes vapores de ultramar.
El terreno esta dividido en 20 manzanas de 140 vs de frente por 140 vs de fondo, libres de las 10 vs para calle.
Esta en la conciencia de todo el mundo que Bahia Blanca sera en pocos años, lo que San Francisco de California fue para los Estados Unidos, alli el oro y la agricultura levantaron esa ciudad, aqui esta y nuestros saladeros haran lo mismo.
Bahia Blanca como cabecera de la red de ferro carriles que iran al corazon de la Republica, como unico y seguro puerto de mar en toda nuestra vasta, costa, sera muy pronto la ciudad mas florecimte y poblada de la Provincia y de la Republica tal vez.
Los que mal gastan su dinero en numeros de loteria, del cual nada les vuelve, compren una cuadra aqui en Bahia Blanca y cuando acuerden se han sacado la grande.
Venta a todo precio.

Madame E——, the acknowledged leader of the most refined and fashionable society in the city of New York, speaks of Murray & Lanman's Florida Water in the following highly complimentary manner, viz: "It has a fragrance as fresh as the odour from blooming flowers, and imparts to the bath a delightful buoyancy. I use it on the toilet table and the handkerchief, to the exclusion of all other perfumes.

It is not What

Are generally termed 'Blood Purifiers' that people need when they are out of sorts, but good digestion. It is well digested food—bread and butter, beefsteak and mutton chops—that makes good blood and keeps it pure. Put the digestive organs in a healthy condition with a few doses of Dr Schenck's Mandrake Pills, and nature will do the rest. The blood cannot be impure if digestion is good.

ON 'CHANGE.

June 4th, 1883

Patacon	25.00
Cedulas A	100⅝
Cedulas E	85½
National Bank Shares	103⅛

Great efforts were made this morning to bear National Bank Shares, but the drop in price was only temporary. Many are the comments with regard to the negotiation of the bonds held by the Bank, and rumours were spread that difficulties have arisen in the Syndicate that made the arrangement. As is well known, there is still some slight opposition to the arrangement on the Board of Directors of the Bank, but the majority of the members are in favor of the settlement made, and efforts are being made to hasten the declaration of Congress as to the foreign nature of the loan. The market, it must be acknowledged, attaches little importance to the subject, and the bulls say that shares will go up if the arrangement falls through. The advances secured by the arrangement are, nevertheless, a great help to the market, and the influence of same will be specially felt in exchange circles, and it is to be hoped that Congress will finally declare the bonds in the Bank a foreign loan and thus shut the door to all damaging rumors.
One hundred shares changed hands for cash at 103⅜, and 800 were sold for the end of the month; rates opened at 104⅜, dropped to 104⅜ and closed firm at 104½. The market is firm, and the fall this morning shewed that there were many buyers outside the speculative circle under present price.
The bears tried this morning to effect a heavy fall with the hopes of seeing shares come on the market to meet "cauciones." Very many shares are held on lent capital, and a scare would have produced the desired effect, but the defeat of the bears is the clearest proof of the firm feeling in the stock which, outside the speculative sphere, is one of the best investments in the market. The bank is doing a roaring business, and operations were never so large as at present.
Cedulas were very dull; 87,000 were sold during official hours. Series E changed hands for cash at 85½ and for the end of the month at 85⅜. A few thousand Series A were sold at 100⅜. Five thousand E were sold for to-morrow at 85½. The market presents little activity.
There is very little doing in exchange circles; there are few takers in the market for the moment. Small amounts reported passed at 99½.
The money market rules easy and banks discount liberally; applications are very numerous.
Eighteen leagues of land, several leagues North of Santa Fé, have been sold at the rate of $5,000 per league. The extraordinary feature about this sale is that the Government valuation of the "Contribucion Directa" office is no less than $11,000 per league, and these lands were sold two years ago for $1,000 per league. Buyer, a Spaniard, who intends to plough the whole land.
The Sud America arrived at Genoa on the 2nd inst., and the Europa left that port for the Plate on the 3d inst.
Mr. P. Christophersen has been named agent of the Italian steamers Nord and Sud America, Europa and C. Colombo, formerly belonging to the Lavarello Company, now in liquidation. We call attention to the advertisement of the agent in another column. Parties anxious to make the voyage to Europe in 15 days will be delighted to hear that an opportunity of doing so is not remote. The Nord America formerly the Stirling Castle, is posted to leave this port in September, and many parties have already expressed their intention of leaving in her for Europe.

Cedulas—
For cash A 9,800 at 100⅝
For cash E 17,000 at 85½
For June 6th E 6,000 at 85½
For June 30th E 55,000 at 85⅝
Sales, 87,800

National Bank Shares—
For cash 100 at 103⅞
For June 30th 800 at 104⅛-⅜-½
Sales, 900

Advices from Cordoba announce the arrival, there of two parties from Chile with bank credits to buy 2,000 "novillos" for the West Coast.
Good news at last from Catamarca; it has rained most plentifully up there, and the pasturages are coming round; there is yet, however, much misery in the camps, and the supplies sent up have saved many a poor family. In Rioja also it has rained, and is raining, and the food supplies sent up to the people have arrived and are distributed. San Luis is now making great headway, owing to the large purchases of its camps by people in B. Aires, and the great supply of ready money amongst the working people, due to the Government Railway works, everyone now has money, and the earnings of these workmen flow into the "almacenes" and "tiendas" to finally make their way back to B. Aires. The Governor has opened the Chambers, and in his speech says the provincial revenue for 1883 is $176,628, of which 170,491 are already collected; the revenue shows an increase of 73,669 over that of 1881. This speaks well for San Luis. In fact, the more we read these provincial papers and study their echoes the more are we convinced that it is only now the Interior is waking up, and it is this great resurrection of the Interior that swells our Custom House figures to what they are.
On Saturday a box was seized in the Custom House and $1,500 fine imposed; it contained articles not manifested, and we regret that a leading house here that despatched the box and knew nothing of its contents is implicated in the matter; the box in question belonged to an emigrant.
The whole market is of accord with Mr Lord Mayor Alvear in his note asking the Consejo instead of spending money unnecessarily in opening a credit office to apply to Congress to get the National Public Credit Office to do the business. We have no doubt the Consejo will see the necessity of every economy at present and adopt the very excellent suggestion of Mr. Alvear.
Amongst the brokers to-day there was very great talk of the lawsuit between Don José Ocampo and Dn O. de la Barra about National Bank Shares. Last October Ocampo sold to Barra 250 shares at 123½ deliverable 30th Nov., which shares Ocampo bought back in November from Barra at 108, leaving a difference in Ocampo's favor of $3,812, half of which Barra paid, and the action was taken to recover the other half. Barra pleaded the statute against gaming, and also that the 50 o/o paid was in chancelacion. The Juez de Comercio gave judgment in favor of Ocampo. Barra appealed, and the Appelate Court has just now decided the question in favor of Barra by reversing the judgment of the Juez de Comercio. The jurisprudence established by this decision is alike important to the lawyers and the brokers.
From the 1st instant the Mortgage Bank has decided to allow ½ brokerage to all brokers who bring business to the Bank; a very good move, but the Bank seems to be a doing a splendid business, and is the greatest discount Bank now in the market. We see new fresh Cedulas on 'Change constantly and they sell as readily as those ten years old.
Messrs. Baltar & Quesada and Bullrich & Co. have now between them for sale by auction, one of the greatest testamentaria estates ever offered in this market, houses, quintas, estancias, flocks of sheep, &c., all belonging to the late Don Patricio Lynch. The late Mr. Lynch was evidently one of the richest men in the R. Plate; son of an Irishman, his family belonged to Galway; his properties in the R. Plate were really a Dukedom, and his rentals must have been some of the largest in the country. The Lynch family, although of Irish extraction, is one of the oldest in Buenos Aires, and connected by the intermarriage of its members with we may say the principal families of B. Aires; the late Don Patricio was an excellent good man, esteemed and respected by all, and through his industry, intelligence and enterprise amassed a fortune which even in England would be considered colossal.
The "novillo" question, to judge by the Provincial papers, is attracting immense attention in the Interior, where the abolition of the export-tax on live cattle is the most important feature of the new bill; it seems that when this law comes into force there will be an immense spurt in the purchase of live cattle for Chile and the West Coast; so best. We can grow cattle enough now with all our new frontier lands for all our neighbours, and as for the Orientals and Brazilians buying up the cattle in Entre Rios and Corrientes for their saladeros, we apprehend that the abolition of the export-tax on jerked beef will correct all that. Our saladeros now will be able to work more freely and to compete with those in Brazil or Uru

BANCO HIPOTECARIO

Esta abierto al servicio público todos los dias de trabajo desde las 10 de la mañana hasta las 4 de la tarde.

Por el valor del prestamo de cedulas hipotecarias que producen una renta igual al interes que cobra el Banco.

El interesado se obligara a pagar una anualidad que dure todo el termino del contrato. La anualidad se compone del interes del capital prestado, del fondo destinado á amortizarlo y de la comision del Banco. La anualidad se divide en trimestres, y las cedulas que al presente da el Establecimiento son:—

Serie E.

Dura 20 años 100 dias 6 o/o de interes, 2 o/o de amortizacion y 1 o/o de comision.

Pagadas las anualidades convenidas por todo el tiempo del contrato, queda la hipoteca redimida, y libre el deudor de las obligaciones hacia el Banco. El deudor podra libertar el inmueble, en todo o parte, anticipandose el contrato.

El que pretendiese prestamos del Banco se presentara por escrito, designando el inmueble que ofrece en hipoteca de una manera precisa, acompañando los titulos de propiedad, los boletos de contribucion directa y espresando al mismo tiempo su estension el gravamen, o los gravamenes que deben ser levantados simultaneamente que se constituya el credito hipotecario. En la Secretaria encontraran el formulario y las tablas de amortizacion.

Los deudores por trimestres haran las entregas de 8 a 15 de Enero, 8 a 15 de Abril, 8 a 15 de Junio, 8 a 15 de Octubre.

Con el fondo cobrado por amortizacion, se rescataran cedulas por sorteo a la par, y con anticipacion de un trimestre.

Las ventas de las cedulas trimestrales las pagara el Banco de 1 a 15 de Enero, de 1 a 15 de Abril, de 1 a 15 de Junio y de 1 a 15 de Octubre.

El mismo Banco hipotecario recibe sus cedulas en deposito gratuito, dando al depositante una libreta que servira de certificado del deposito.

El deposito se admite desde una cedula de $f.50 que es el minimum de las que emite el Establecimiento.

SOLICITADA.

Al Publico y al Comercio.

PROTESTA

En la ciudad de Buenos Aires, Capital de la Republica Argentina, a veintinueve de Mayo de mil ochocientos ochenta y tres, ante mi el escribano y testigos que se espresaran comparecio D. Juan Etchegoyen, de estado casado, mayor de edad, domiciliado en el partido del Pilar, provincia de Buenos Aires, y accidentalmente en esta, a quien conozco, doy fe y digo: Que por el Juzgado de 1ª Istancia en lo Comercial a cargo del Dr D Justo Pastor Ortiz y secretaria de D. Miguel Repetto, sigue un juicio contra D Jose Plá sobre propiedad del saladero Mocoreta, situado en la provincia de Corrientes, en esta Republica. Que habiendo llegado a su conocimiento la venta del saladero materia de este litis, segun las publicaciones que leyo en varios periodicos de esta capital, a favor de los señores Mallmann y Ca de este comercio y domiciliado en la calle de las Piedras numero 16, quienes á su vez tratan de formar una sociedad anonima a objeto de explotaria. Que sin entrar a clasificar los moviles que han inducido, tanto al Señor Plá, al hacer esta venta como a los Señores Mallmann y Comp., al querer formar una sociedad anonima para su explotacion; y de acuerdo con los articulos quience, titulo de las Nulidades y nueve titulo "De la Trasmision de los derechos," Codigo Civil y ley quience, titulo septimo, partida tercera, esa venta seria absolutamente nula si, como espera, sus derechos fuesen declarados validos por el señor Juez que entiende en este litis. Que a fin de no perjudicar a las personas que formasen parte de esa sociedad anonima, como asi mismo a objeto de garantir sus derechos; declara y otorga. Que protesta contra D. Jose Pla o cualquier otra persona por la venta que hizo a favor de los señores Mallman y Compania, cuantas veces haya lugar por derecho, por los daños y perjuicios que le originan y quiere que de la presente se le de copia para hacerla llegar al conocimiento de la publicidad que quiere hacer en los periodicos de esta capital y donde creyere conveniente, como asi mismo hacerle saber la presente protesta a los señores Mallman y Ca., para su conocimiento, por medio de notification. En su testimonio asi lo ortogo y previa lectura en la que se ractifico, firmo, siendo testigos D. Eduardo W. Ortiz y D. Eduardo Almiron, vecinos mayores de edad, de mi conocimiento doy fe. J. Etchegoyen. Testigo—E. Almiron. Testigo—E. W. Ortiz. Hay un sello anti mi—Camilo Fonrouge. Escribano Publico.

Con techa 31 del mismo, notifique esta protesta a los señores Mallman y Ca, Piedras No 15, doy fe Mallman y Ca.—Fonrouge.

EL SEGUNDO LOTE
10
Notables Carneros
Y
20 esplendidas ovejas
Animales extraordinarios por su gran tamaño
Raza conocida por
MERINOS PRECOCES
Animales para carne, para competir con los Lincoln, etc.
Con la diferencia de ser estos de
LANA FINA
Como el mas rico Rambouillet venidos a nuestra consignacion de la cabana de Mr. Paul Bataille
En nuestra casa
51—SAN MARTIN—51
El Viernes 8 de Junio 1883
A las 2 p.m.

Venderemos al mejor precio y al contado un selectisimo lote de carneros y ovejas merinos, (conocido por Rambouillet) procedentes de la gran cabaña del afamado criador frances Mr Paul Bataille quien tiene adquiridos en las exposiciones europeas los siguientes premios por sus magnificos carneros,

25 medallas de oro 20 de plata y 15 de bronce

Entre las que figuran—Primer premio en la Exposicion de Paris de 1878. Primer premio en el concurso Internacional de Magdbourg
(PRUSSIA)
en 1880 id id en el Palacio de la Industria 1883, y otros primeros premios en los grandes concursos de Chateaux Thyery 1875, Arras 1876, Compiegne 1877, Lille 1879, Veully 1880 Versailles 1881 St. Quentin 1882 y
Paris 1883

Los animales denominados Merinos precoces son de un tamaño verdaderamente escepcional y como hasta la fecha no han venido al pais, es esta la raza formada por los criadores franceses para competir con los carneros ingleses Lincoln, Cotswold etc.

Los hacendados que buscan animales para carne y que deseen conservar las lanas finas en sus rebaños, deben adquirir algunos ejemplares de estos,

Pues reunen ademas de su
Tamano Escepcional
Y de su peso excesivo y facilidad en el engorde una finura extra en su vellon

La importacion de este lote de carneros y ovejas, ha sido debido a la constante insinuacion de algunas compatriotas residentes en Francia, que han tenido oportunidad de apreciar personalmente el grande y escojido rebaño de M. Paul Bataille.

Los señores criadores que deseasen mayores datos sobre esta importante raza reputada por M. Andre Sanson (profesor del Institute Nacional) la primera de Francia, pueden leer en su tratado de Zootecnia en el tomo 5° pag. 97 a 101, las palabras que les dedica y para mayor abundamiento y seguridad de informaciones, leer la obra escrita por el citado autor y titulada:

Los carneros estan ya en nuestra casa San Martin 51. La venta se anunciará con anticipacion para que los señores criadores puedan inspeccionar los animales.

The Colony in Gainza
Lands payable at eight years' credit without interest.

We have just concluded the sale of the 56 leagues of land we offered in Gainza at $250,000 m/c per league, payable 10 o/o or say $25,000 m/c cash, and the balance in eight yearly payment of $28,125 m/c without interest last payment comes due in 1891; 28 purchasers of all nationalities bought these 56 leagues.

The land is noted for its goodness, and Clark's railway from Buenos Aires to Valparaiso passes near it, and will place settlers within reach of this city in one day.

The purchasers of these lands will probably double their capital in five years, although they have eight years to pay for them; because in the hands of 28 proprietors, in 5 years time we shall see all the elements of pastoral and agricultural progress firmly fixed in this colony.

We have still some 20 Leagues for sale, and we invite sheep and cattle farmers whether half-leaguers or ten-leaguers, to come to our office to 178 Calle San Martin to see the plans and study this business.
